Thermo-lifting INFRARED

Deep Dermal Redensification

Smart Infrared leverages sapphire glass to enhance infrared energy conduction, leading to a thermal effect on the skin. Engineered for precision and safety, this advanced tip enables stimulation of deeper skin layers to produce physiological collagen while protecting the skin’s surface.

Conceptual schematic representation of infrared technology.

REGENERATIVE TECHNOLOGY BACKED BY SCIENCE

Sapphire glass, a highly durable and thermally conductive material, allows targeted infrared light to penetrate up to 4 mm beneath the skin, stimulating collagen remodeling without affecting superficial layers.³ Infrared (IR) therapy plays a distinct role in skin regeneration by stimulating type III collagen, crucial for elasticity and early tissue remodeling. Study demonstrated a significant increase in type I and III pro-collagen fibers, along with a reduction in MMP-1 and MMP-2 levels. These findings suggest IR therapy’s long-term biostimulatory effect.⁴

The advanced cooling mechanism provides surface temperature control, protecting the epidermis and enhancing patient comfort during treatment.

Physiological Bio-Stimulation

Smart Infrared works by delivering precise thermal energy to dermis, activating fibroblasts, the key cellular drivers of collagen production. This controlled stimulation initiates a cascade of dermal remodeling processes, improving skin structure and elasticity naturally, while promoting angiogenesis, essential for skin rejuvenation. Over time, collagen regeneration strengthens the extracellular matrix, restoring the skin’s youthful firmness and texture.

Real Experiences CLINICAL OUTCOMES

Dr Arthur Swift

Board Certified Plastic Surgeon & Renowned Educator, Canada

Zaffiro has been a real game-changer in my practice. It's really nice to offer patients non-invasive treatments with absolutely no pain and zero downtime. It's important to create both the experience and the result, and patients truly appreciate the zero downtime. This technology has become the backbone of our non-invasive device offerings, supplementing the other treatments we provide for our patients. While it is quite effective as a stand-alone treatment, its real strength is in its ability to work in combination with other solutions.

Zaffiro stimulates the production of physiological collagen, increasing dermis thickness by +40%, which is a lot. With this device, there is no pain, and patients experience better skin quality immediately after treatment, along with a 53% reduction in wrinkles. The feedback on Zaffiro has been amazing. Patients always send messages right after their treatment, sometimes even voice recordings, saying things like, "Wow, I feel wonderful! I can see that I don't have wrinkles anymore" or "I notice a lifting effect." "Over time, the results become even better."
