Bio-regeneration: laying the foundation for multi-level combination

REPORT SUMMARY

PATIENT

52-year-old female, Fitzpatrick II, presenting with aging-related changes involving both superficial and deep dermis.

TREATMENTS

A multilevel "sandwich technique" using Neauvia Hydro Deluxe 2 ml per side across two sessions one month apart. One side received 1 ml deep intradermal injection (30G, 13 mm) + 1 ml superficial microneedling (0.2 mm).

The other side received 2 ml injected deeply. A split-face design allowed clinical and instrumental comparison.

RESULTS

Treating both superficial and deep dermal layers produced superior improvement in texture, hydration, and overall rejuvenation. The dual-depth stimulation likely enhanced fibroblast activation at multiple levels, confirming the benefit of multilevel anti-aging strategies.
